

Requirements for Participating in Your Photography Tour; Identification of Risks You May Encounter; Voluntary Assumption of Risks; Waiver of Liability; and Indemnity Agreement.

Purpose of this Agreement.

This document (for simplicity, referred to hereafter as the “Agreement”):

- informs you of risks you may encounter in your upcoming photography tour, workshop, or class (hereafter, “Tour”):
KATMAI NATIONAL PARK – BEARS AND SALMON EXPEDITION
Dates: July 3-7, 2018
Minimum number of participants: 4
Maximum number of participants: 7
Tour Leader(s): James Norman
- identifies which risks will be assumed by Road Runner Photography Tours, LLC (hereafter, “Road Runner”), and which risks will be assumed by you;
- explains important terms and conditions regarding your registration and your participation in the Tour;
- explains how this Agreement will be interpreted and applied in the event you experience an injury or loss; and
- provides you the opportunity to negotiate an alternative agreement if there is anything in this document that you do wish to agree to.

Road Runner requires this Agreement to ensure that you understand the risks that may be encountered during the Tour, to ensure an appropriate, equitable allocation of risks between you and Road Runner, and to ensure you understand important terms and conditions of the Tour. If we did not require this or a similar Agreement, we would have to set the fees for our tours at a much higher level, we would not be able to offer some tours, and some people would not be able to participate because the price would be prohibitively high. You benefit by being able to participate in the Tour, and by enjoying a substantially lower cost to participate.

This is a formal legal agreement. You need to take the time to read and understand its terms; do not sign this Agreement until you have done so. If you do not agree with any provision of the entire document, you may propose an alternative agreement (see Negotiation of an Alternative Agreement, below).

Confirmation of Your Participation in this Tour. Your Tour registration is not confirmed and you will not be allowed to participate in the Tour until:

- you sign this Agreement and deliver it to Road Runner, or
- you sign and deliver an alternative agreement to which Road Runner has agreed.

Road Runner will continue to offer enrollment in this Tour until we have confirmed registrations for the maximum number of participants we will permit on this Tour. If you wish to negotiate an alternative agreement, do so at once to avoid losing your opportunity to participate in this Tour. If you do not wish to negotiate an alternative agreement, sign this Agreement and deliver it to Road Runner as soon as possible.

Negotiation of an Alternative Agreement. If you do not understand, or do not agree with, this document, you are not required to sign it; you may instead initiate negotiations with Road Runner that may lead to an alternative agreement. Because negotiation of an alternative agreement is likely to require considerable effort, both by you and by Road Runner, you must promptly inform Road Runner of your desire to negotiate an alternative agreement; failure to do so will affect the amount of any refund Road Runner will make if we do not reach agreement on an alternative agreement. It will be your responsibility to draft any proposed alternative agreement. Road Runner may accept your proposed alternative, reject it, or suggest changes that would make it acceptable; if Road Runner suggests changes to your proposed alternative, you may accept them, reject them, or suggest additional changes. At any time, either you or Road Runner may end the negotiation; if an alternative agreement is not completed within 60 days of your initial registration or 30 days prior to the beginning date of the Tour, whichever is earlier, Road Runner is likely to end the negotiation.

If we do not reach agreement on an alternative agreement, Road Runner will refund any deposits and payments you have made for this Tour as follows —

- If you inform Road Runner in writing (an email message is fine), of your desire to negotiate an alternative agreement within seven days (including weekends and holidays) of registering for this Tour, Road Runner will refund all deposits and payments you have made for this Tour.
- If you do not inform Road Runner in writing of your desire to negotiate an alternative agreement within seven days (including weekends and holidays) of registering for this Tour, you will receive the same refund as a Participant Cancellation.

Identification of Risks You May Encounter. Your participation in this Tour will involve known and unknown RISKS, such as: damage to or loss of camera equipment or other personal property, which may be caused by your own negligent actions or inactions or the negligent actions or inactions of others participating in the Tour, or the conditions in which the Tour takes place. Other RISKS include, but are not limited to, unexpected medical emergencies, such as: sprains, strains, or more serious personal injury, including, but not limited to, broken bones, cardiac events, permanent disability, paralysis, and death. . During past Road Runner tours, we have seen trips and falls, twisted ankles, and in one instance, a bone was broken, as well as severe damage to camera gear; we are aware of similar and more serious incidents that have occurred during photography tours operated by other providers, including one death.

Participation in a Road Runner tour will typically involve inherent risks that cannot be eliminated, including minor injuries such as scratches, bruises, and insect bites and stings. Whenever a tour takes place in a remote location, professional medical care may be delayed when needed, and medical evacuation may be difficult (and expensive).

Road Runner considers this Tour to involve a Moderate-to-Elevated level of risk because, among other factors, the Tour involves:

- We will be traveling by floatplane. Once in Katmai National Park, we will be in bear country. The bears have full run of the park and we will undoubtedly encounter bears in and around Brooks Lodge and throughout the park. We will likely have bear encounters on the trails to and from the viewing platforms and the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes.
- Medical attention and medical care, beyond basic first-aid, will be limited. For medical emergencies, participants will need to be airlifted from the park and evacuated back to King Salmon or Anchorage, depending on the circumstances. Evacuation can take significant time and be costly. The cost will be borne by the participant, not Road Runner Photography Tours.
- For this tour, participants are required to purchase evacuation coverage as part of their travel insurance package.
- Participants should make sure that they bring with them any medical devices (e.g., CPAP) or medications they may require during this trip, as there are no facilities to purchase items. Please see the Healthy Travel Packing Checklist provided by Road Runner Photography Tours.

There may be additional risks, which Road Runner is not aware of, and conditions relating to the risks Road Runner is aware of may have changed by the time the Tour takes place. Those unknown risks may substantially increase the overall risk of participating in this Tour.

Every Road Runner Tour Leader has obtained basic first aid training and certification, but your Tour Leader is not a medical professional and does not have the training, and will not have the equipment, to handle every incident that may occur during the Tour.

Your safety during this Tour will largely depend on your own skills, attentiveness, care, and common sense. If you are uncertain how to deal with a particular situation, ask a Tour Leader for help. You must be realistic concerning your capabilities and limitations, and you must not attempt to exceed those capabilities when participating in Tour activities.

Travel with a group invariably involves compromise to accommodate the diverse desires, travel goals, personalities, and physical abilities of group members; consequently the Tour itinerary is only a guideline, and Road Runner makes adjustments throughout the Tour to accommodate the needs of participants.

Cancellation of the Tour by Road Runner. Road Runner may cancel this Tour if any of the following occur —

- We have fewer than 4 confirmed registrations for this Tour by June 1, 2018.

- A Tour Leader becomes unavailable due to illness, family emergency, or any other reason.
- Necessary transportation, lodging, or any other service that Road Runner deems essential becomes unavailable.
- Road Runner determines that participants' health or safety could be endangered by adverse weather, natural disaster, civil unrest or violence, crime, evidence of an elevated risk of terrorist attack, war, disease outbreak, or any other adverse development.

In some instances, Road Runner may be able to partially overcome occurrences that would otherwise require cancellation of a tour by reducing the number of Tour participants; this would require cancellation of some, but not all, registrations.

If Road Runner cancels this Tour, or cancels your registration because we have to reduce the number of Tour participants, we will refund all deposits and payments you have made for this Tour. Road Runner will not be responsible for any financial loss you experience as a result of a tour cancellation (for example, there may be a substantial fee to reschedule a flight, or you might not be able to use or reschedule a flight if you chose to purchase a nonrefundable airline ticket); you can protect yourself from such losses by purchasing travel insurance (Road Runner always recommends that you consider travel insurance when you register for one of our tours).

Participant Cancellation.

We require written notice of your cancellation (email will be adequate). If you cancel on or after May 1, 2018, a non-refundable fee of $250 will be assessed, but you may apply this amount as a credit to a future 2018 or 2019 RRPT trip that is priced at $1000 or more. If you cancel on or after June 1, 2018, a non-refundable fee of $1000 will be assessed, unless we are able to find another person to take your place; if we fill your spot, a non-refundable fee of $250 will be withheld, but you may apply this amount as a credit to a future 2018 or 2019 RRPT trip that is priced at $900 or more.

Your Health and Ability to Participate in the Tour's Activities. By registering for and participating in this Tour, you certify that you are capable of meeting the physical and mental demands of the Tour, and that your participation will not create a risk for you, any other tour participant, any Tour Leader, any service provider, or any other person. Road Runner will not be responsible for any medical care you may require during or following this Tour.

Road Runner considers this Tour to involve a Moderate level of activity because, among other factors, the Tour involves:

We will be hiking along dirt paths through forests to and from the viewing platforms. We may have to leave the main path and hike through the forests (not on established paths) to avoid bear encounters. It is not unusual to have bears napping in the pathways. We will also have the opportunity to hike into the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes. Participants should be able to hike approximately 3 miles (at a time, at a leisurely pace). There will be opportunity set backpacks on the decks, below our legs while shooting, but participants should be able to wear or carry their camera bags for these distances and throughout the day.

Your health and medical circumstances will not be considered as exceptions to the Tour's Participation Cancellation terms and conditions. You can protect yourself from losses due to a cancellation made necessary by a change in your health or medical circumstances by purchasing travel insurance.

If you have a medical condition that Road Runner needs to be aware of, please provide full information, in Appendix A – Participant Information, Waiver, and Release.

Special Dietary Requirements. Road Runner cannot guarantee that your special dietary requirements can be met during this Tour. Meals are provided in some of our tour packages, but more commonly each participant is responsible for selecting and paying for his or her own meal. Road Runner chooses lodgings and restaurants in advance, without regard to any participant's dietary requirements. If this Tour includes meals (see the Tour's information on our web site), Road Runner will gladly forward information concerning your dietary requirements to our service providers, but we cannot guarantee that your requirements will be met. Some service providers do not have the ability to meet special requests. In other instances, a service provider may be willing to accommodate your special dietary requirements at no additional cost or may require payment of additional fees to meet your requirements. If a service provider requires payment of additional fees to meet your requirements, you will be responsible for paying all such additional fees.

If you have special dietary requirements that you want our services providers to be aware of, please provide full information in Appendix A – Participant Information, Waiver, and Release.

Agreement and Release Regarding Use of Your Image. You grant Road Runner the irrevocable right and permission to photograph or otherwise record your image in connection with the activities of this Tour, and to use all such photographs or video recordings (hereafter, "Photographs") for all purposes, including advertising and promotional purposes, in any manner in any and all media, in perpetuity throughout the world, without restriction as to alteration. You waive any right to inspect and approve the use of the Photographs, and acknowledge and agree that the rights granted by this agreement and release are without compensation of any kind other than the opportunity to participate in the Tour. You agree that such Photographs and the copyright therein are the exclusive property of Road Runner. You agree to release and discharge Road Runner from any claims, actions, damages, demands, costs, expenses (including attorneys' fees) or lawsuits of any kind (excluding willful or grossly negligent acts) by reason of distribution or use of such Photographs.

Indemnification of Tour Leaders. If you decide to take legal action regarding any injury or loss during or relating to this Tour, you agree to bring that action only against Road Runner Photography Tours, LLC and that you will indemnify, defend, and hold harmless each Tour Leader from any and all loss, cost, claim, expense, cause of action, and liability arising from any injury (including death) or damage to property that you suffer during this Tour.

Right of Rescission. Road Runner wants you to be entirely satisfied and comfortable with your decision to enter into this Agreement. If you have second thoughts, you can rescind your decision within five days, including weekends and holidays, of the date you sign this Agreement. If you rescind within the five-day grace period, we will refund any deposit or payments you made for this Tour.
